The Secretariat of the United Nations presents its compliments to the Permanent Missions to the United Nations and has the honour to inform them of the following, with the request that this information be also transmitted to their governments.

Reference is made to General Assembly resolution 79/325, which establishes, within the United Nations, the multidisciplinary Independent International Scientific Panel on Artificial Intelligence (“the Panel”) with balanced geographic representation to promote scientific understanding, comprising 40 members, serving in their personal capacity, selected for a term of three years, and requests the Secretary-General to launch a published criteria-based open call and to recommend a list of 40 members of the Panel to be appointed by the General Assembly in a time-bound manner.

Member States wishing to nominate experts to serve on the Panel are requested to:

1. Officially communicate the names and contact details (email address) for each nominated expert to aiscientificpanel@un.org by 31 October 2025;
and
2. Encourage such nominated experts to fill out and submit, by 31 October 2025, the online application form which will go live at the launch of the open call on 25 September 2025 at www.un.org/independent-international-scientific-panel-ai.

Individuals who do not fill out the online application form by 31 October 2025 will not be eligible for recommendation by the Secretary-General, regardless of whether they are nominated by Member States.

A list of 40 members of the Panel will be recommended for appointment by the General Assembly on the basis of their outstanding expertise in artificial intelligence and related fields, an interdisciplinary perspective, and geographical and gender balance, taking into account candidacies from a broad representation of varying levels of technological development, including from developing countries, with due consideration to nominations from Member States and with no more than two selected candidates of the same nationality or affiliation and no employees of the United Nations system. The attached provides further background.

The Secretariat of the United Nations avails itself of this opportunity to renew to the Permanent Missions to the United Nations the assurances of its highest consideration.
